

My experience of working with Sunbury Heights found them to be a highly professional organisation. All team members were highly skilled, managing all the detail behind the scenes and only communicating what was necessary enabling me to focus on running the business the business, and not worrying about the project status.

Nick Tait, General Director, GlaxoSmithKline Consumer Healthcare Russia.